Category Descriptions

Communications

Local authority communications and marketing efforts play a vital role in keeping the public informed, involved and engaged, promoting services and projects, supporting local business and enterprise, promoting library services, and encouraging tourism, enterprise and investment. Local authority marketing and communications extend across public awareness, project communications, service promotion, brand development, tourism promotion, internal communications, and other areas.

This award seeks to recognise communications and marketing campaigns that support local authorities' strategic objectives and provide a better understanding of the work and role of councils.

Climate Change

With the effects and future of climate change becoming more apparent, it is clear action must be taken by all responsible bodies in this space to combat the crisis. Local authorities have really contributed to these efforts through a range of original initiatives. With both the aim to educate and take action against the effects of climate change, local and regional efforts engaged communities with the climate change crisis.

Diversity & Inclusion

As communities diversify and modernise, it is vital that all members feel included, heard and can participate in local society. Successful projects implemented by local authorities include those focusing on civic engagement, disability friendly services, initiatives in aid of refugees, and projects which educate on and emphasise gender equality, including in local government structures and decision making.

Community engagement is at the core of these initiatives.
